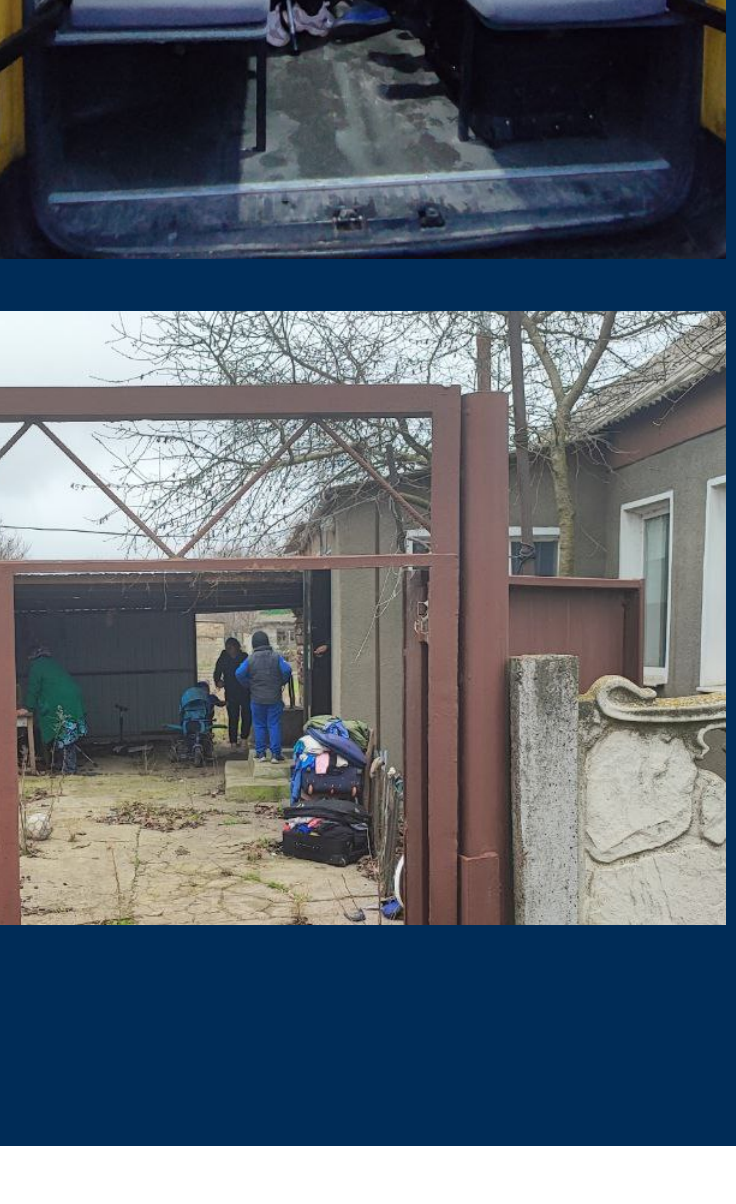
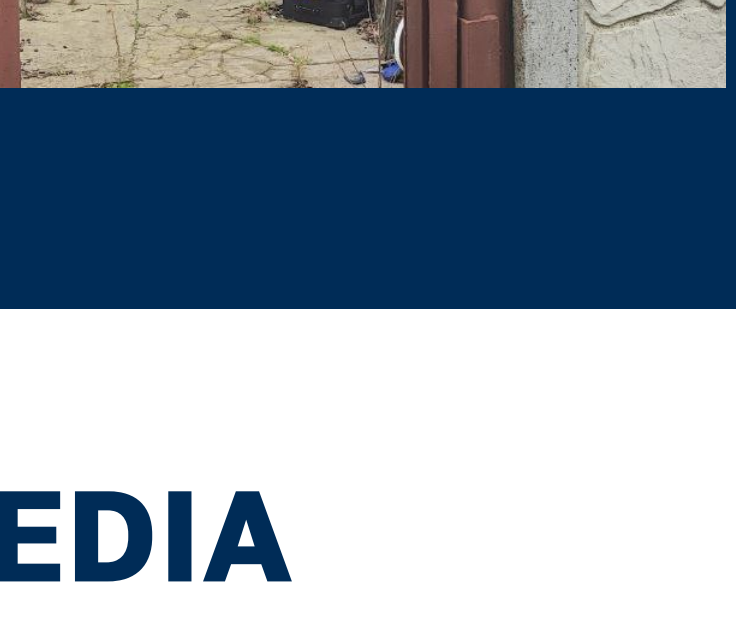
OUR NEWS OF THE LAST WEEK

Waiting For The Bridge

A 95-year-old grandmother and a 35-year-old grandson were evacuated from the town of Chasiv Yar. They asked us to take them to Sviatohirsk because there is a good hotel there and they would like to live there. They temporarily moved to a shelter in Kramatorsk while waiting for the bridge in Sviatohirsk to be rebuilt.

They Lost Everything





People lost their apartment, it was bombed, and they were left with nothing, even no documents. The team first sent them to Sloviansk to complete the paperwork, and then we will take them to Cherkasy region for resettlement under an official program.

Zero, so the sappers checked - there are no mines.
Mom, dad, grandmother with limited mobility and three children. This family was taken away in Krasnopillia near the border with the orcs. A year and a half ago, they moved to their house in Snihurivka. The war broke out, bombing started from the first days. The electricity is gone. They decided to move to their relatives on the left bank of the Dnipro, near the village of Hola Prystan, where they lived for almost a year. It was under occupation.
In early March, they decided to return home, to our native Ukraine, to de-occupied Snihurivka.
The road lay through Crimea, Krasnodar, Voronezh, Belgorod and the border crossing.
In 3 days, they traveled through Russia and reached the border on March 16. It took several hours to cross the border, with all the checks, stripping to the underwear and intimidation that here in Ukraine they would be considered traitors to the Motherland.
We met them and took them home.
The gate to the yard had a Zero painted on it, which meant that the sappers had checked for mines.
